what can a couple do in this situation? advance planning, while both are still healthy, is the best option the only difficulty you will find with this type of insulate is fitting it; some types of blanket insulation are made from fibreglass so they need to be handled with care